The Working Forest Coalition (WFC) is the Endowment’s only national-level activity designed to advance federal policy and national-level actions that sustain and enhance the value of private working forests to society and to forest owners – “Private forests; public benefits.”

The Coalition includes a wide-range of interests: American Forest Foundation; Environmental Defense Fund; Forest Landowners Association; National Alliance of Forest Owners; National Association of State Foresters; National Wildlife Federation; Pacific Forest Trust; Society of American Foresters; The Conservation Fund; The Nature Conservancy; Theodore Roosevelt Conservation Partnership; and the Endowment.

Currently inactive.
- The WFC was exceptionally successfully in getting specific attention drawn to the importance of private working forests and green building through its engagement in the Obama Administration’s America’s Great Outdoors Initiative; and
- The Coalition will remain intact to advance agreed-upon agenda items but plans to focus most of its efforts through the related “Forests in the Farm Bill Coalition” that includes most of the same organizations and more.
